BIO

Jamal Coleman is a nationally touring comedian, producer and digital creator known for high-energy stand-up, sharp crowd work and freestyle improvisation. Over the past year, his comedy content generated more than 264 million views across Facebook and Instagram, expanding a live-performance career built over 16 years.

His screen and audio credits include VH1, ABC, CBS, Tubi, Kevin Hart's LOL Radio and SiriusXM Raw Comedy. Jamal has held Las Vegas Strip residencies at Resorts World Las Vegas and LA Comedy Club inside The STRAT, and continues to headline, feature and tour clubs nationwide.

His catalog includes the one-hour Tequila Bear special for Laugh After Dark TV, the 15-minute Dating Gets More Awkward After 40 special - considered for Grammy nomination - and the Open Bar Comedy half-hour I Have So Many Questions. He also produces original live formats designed for club residencies, touring and audience participation.

ORIGINAL LIVE FORMATS

BOOK JAMAL - OR BRING THE SHOW

Flexible formats for headline weekends, special events and branded club programming.

CHUCKLE & FLOW

An interactive musical comedy experience created by Jamal Coleman and Amir "Amiracle" Khalil. Stand-up, live music, freestyle rap, improvisation and audience participation come together in a high-energy show that can be scaled for comedy clubs, theaters and special events.

BEST FOR: club weekends, touring packages, festivals, colleges and one-night events.

THE 420s

A recurring comedy format built around four comedians each performing 20-minute sets. The longer sets let audiences connect with each comic while keeping the energy and variety of a showcase. Jamal produces and hosts the series, which has grown into an established Portland community event.

BEST FOR: residencies, guest productions, brand-supported comedy nights and touring editions.
